Summary

Anonymous Sudan is a newly formed hacking group that has launched DDoS attacks on various organisations in Sweden, Denmark, France, Australia and Germany. The group claims to be retaliating against countries that oppose Sudan and expresses support for groups that support them. Anonymous Sudan has a pro-Russian stance and has taken responsibility for disrupting government operations, hospitals and airport services, with potentially serious consequences. The group has issued threats against a wide range of targets and has displayed a religious motivation in its attacks.

This report covers the ideology of the Anonymous Sudan group and their attacks in the last 3 months, which were covered by the ThreatMon team.

Threat Actor Profiles: Anonymous Sudan

Who is Anonymous Sudan

Anonymous Sudan started on January 18, 2023, right after the Telegram Group was founded, with the announcement "We will launch a cyber attack on any country that is against Sudan". Just 5 days after its establishment, the group launched attacks against the burning of the Holy Quran in Stockholm, the capital of Sweden, and continued its attacks until March 2023. They launched denial of service (DDoS) attacks on numerous organizations in Sweden. The sectors they attacked include Government, Education, Bank, Airport, Healthcare. Anonymous Sudan has made announcements that they will support groups that support them for a while. The group has launched a series of DDoS attacks, particularly against Sweden, Denmark, France, Australia and Germany in retaliation for hostile behavior by Muslims, suggesting that the group may be religious hackers. Anonymous Sudan's attacks are thought to have disrupted government operations, healthcare facilities and airport services with potentially serious consequences. The group has claimed responsibility for a number of attacks and issued threats against a wide range of targets.

Anonymous Sudan Activities

The group's first activity was to target the Swedish government and companies from different sectors in response to the burning of the Holy Quran in Stockholm. France was also targeted by Anonymous Sudan for its anti-Islamic actions. Sudanese hackers had previously expressed support for Russian hackers because of their support for Sudan, demonstrating a pro-Russian stance. The fact that Anonymous Sudan claimed to have assisted KillNet in its attack on the German Federal Intelligence Service (Bundesnachrichtendienst), which KillNet claimed to have supported for the first time, suggests that KillNet has a connection with Anonymous Sudan.

What Types of Attacks it Uses

Anonymous Sudan is mostly involved in DDoS attacks and rarely in other types of attacks. Anonymous Sudan posts links to Check-host.net in its telegram group as evidence of attacks.

Which Sectors are Targeted

Anonymous Sudan has launched attacks against a wide range of sectors, including the Government, Education, Banks, Airports and Healthcare. The group has claimed responsibility for a number of attacks and issued threats against a wide range of targets.

Anonymous Sudan Attacks

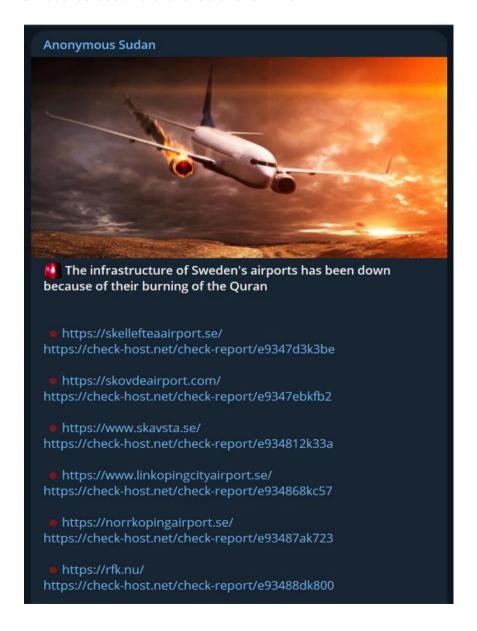

Country Based Attacks

Sweden:

Anonymous Sudan could not remain silent when a Danish-Swedish far right group burned the Quran in front of the Turkish Embassy in Stockholm on 21 January under the protection of Swedish police. Anonymous Sudan and its supporters targeted Sweden.

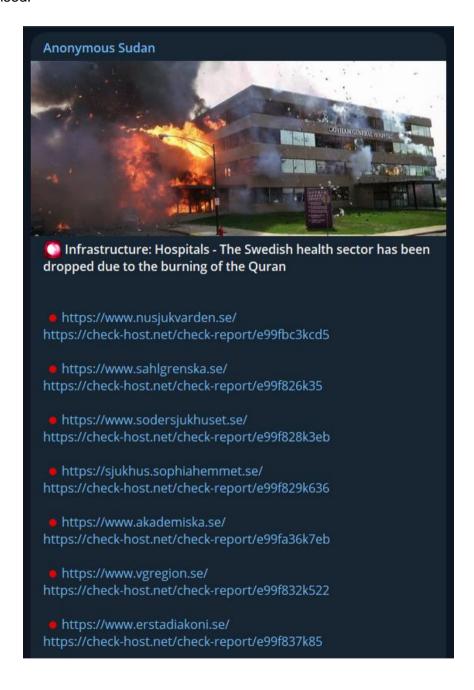

Sweden, targeted by Anonymous Sudan, was attacked a total of 186 times. In this attack, many airlines, hospitals, schools and more were targeted.

08 February 2023 Anonymous Sudan Sudan launched a DDoS attack on 21 airlines in Sweden. Airline websites became unavailable for a while.

10 February 2023, "Sweden's infrastructure health sector will be under attack due to the Quran burning, we hope Sweden will be prepared for this." After the announcement, 18 hospitals were victimised.

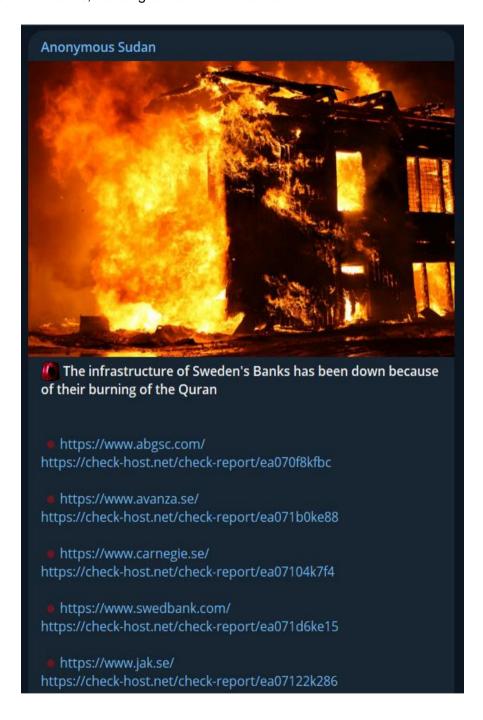

11 February 2023 Anonymous Sudan attacks 26 universities in Sweden. As a result of DDoS attacks on universities, education was disrupted for a while.

12 February 2023, Anonymous Sudan Sudan Sudan crashed the infrastructure of 16 banks in Sweden with DDoS attacks. Customers were left dissatisfied as they could not make transactions in the banks, causing a crisis in the banks.

Denmark:

On 28 March 2023, Anonymous Sudan shared in a Telegram post that they will target Denmark after Sweden due to the burning of the Holy Quran. He stated that these attacks will have a great impact and that they will not stop attacking.

- We declare and confirm.. We will return to attack Denmark this time severely because of the burning of the Quran again, and we will not stop attacking again..
- We will distribute the attacks to Australia and Denmark, but the biggest focus will be on Denmark

On 2 April 2023, Anonymous Sudan caused disruption of ticket purchases, check-in, etc. as a result of DDoS attacks on 11 airlines in Denmark.

Australia:

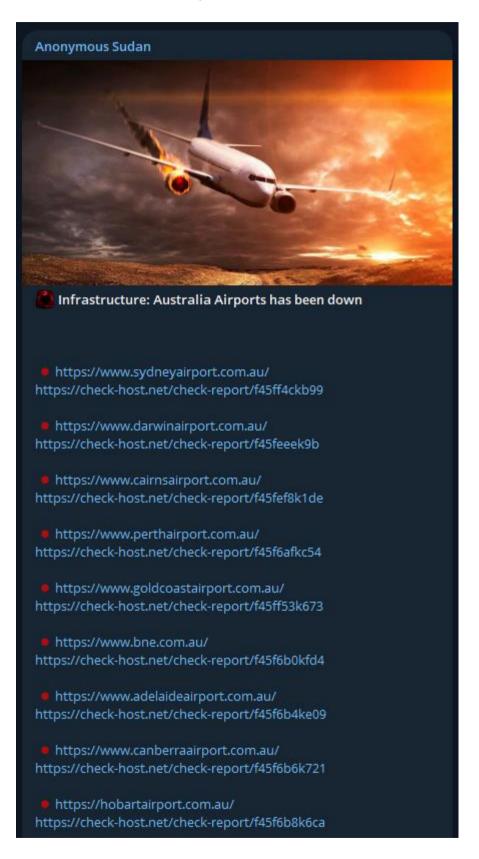

24 March 2023, Australian fashion house Not A Man's Dream has become the new target of Anonymous Sudan for a provocative act against the feelings of Muslims by placing words containing the Arabic name "Allah" on designs of naked women during a fashion exhibition in Melbourne.

They targeted many hospitals in Australia.

24 March 2023 Australian Airports DDoS attacks rendered their infrastructure unusable for a time. Traveller had to wait for a while and systems were down.

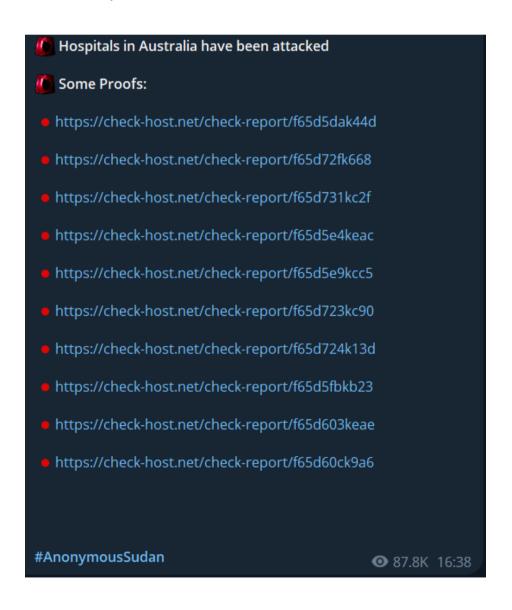

Starting on 24 March, the Australian attacks continued until Sunday 2 April 2023. During the process, they damaged critical infrastructures in attacks on different sectors.

Hospitals in Australia were crippled by DDoS attacks, patients could not be cared for for a certain period of time and systems became unusable.

France:

Anonymous Sudan could not remain silent about the publication in France of a magazine with cartoons depicting the Prophet Mohammed naked. To take revenge on France, the Muslim group launched numerous DDoS attacks, causing an infrastructure crisis in all areas.

15 March 2023, Anonymous Sudan, the first attack against France was against airline companies. They caused 5 airline companies to collapse their infrastructure due to DDoS attacks, so flight operations had to be disrupted for a while.

16 March 2023, Anonymous Sudan caused damage to the infrastructure of 9 companies as a result of DDoS attacks on the French health sector. Thus, hospitals could not accept patients and people could not benefit from the health sector.

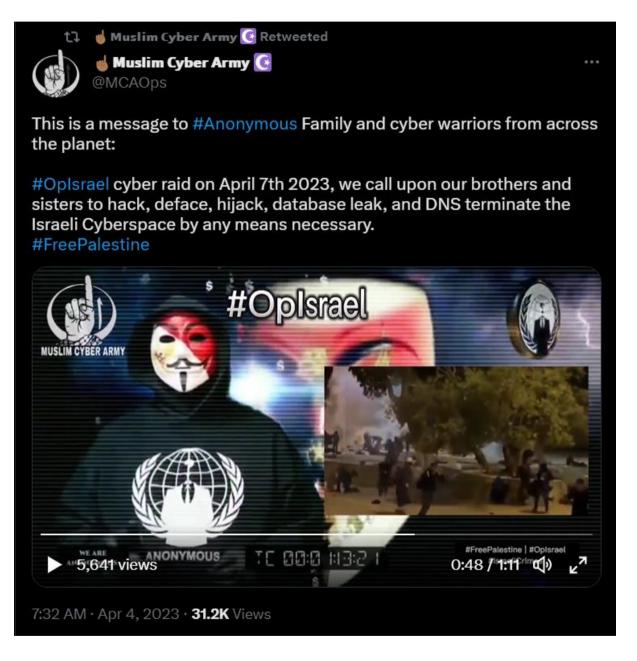

17 March 2023, Anonymous Sudan, which frequently makes DDoS attacks, targeted universities this time. Universities whose infrastructures collapsed were suspended for a while.

Israel:

After the sad event, which was reacted in the world due to the uncontrolled violence of Israeli security forces against Al-Aqsa Mosque, Anonymous Sudan, Mysterious Team Bangladesh under the Muslim Cyber Army stated that they will continue their attacks until 7 April and the main attack will be on 7 April. They said that they would carry out FreePalestine OPIsrael operations to defend Palestinian rights with DDoS attacks against many ministries, universities and security infrastructures affiliated to Israel.

Anonymous Sudan announced that it would attack Israel with great force on April 7th. It claimed to attack with 35 million requests per second on Layer7 and 4 TB UDP - 1.7 TB SYN on Layer4. After the announcement on 2 April 2023, the first victims were hospitals in Israel. As a result of DDoS attacks on hospitals, it became unusable for a while.

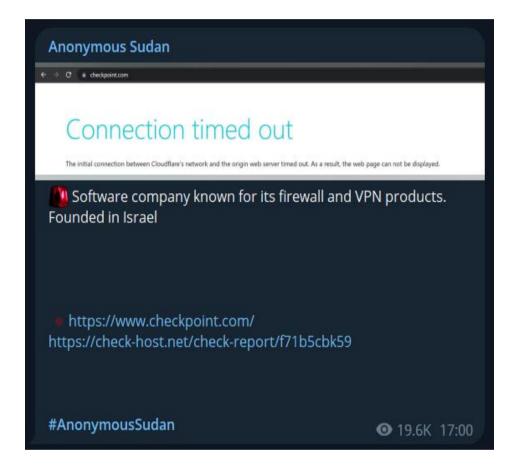

On 4 April 2023, Anonymous Sudan, who wanted to avenge what was done in Palestine, targeted schools.

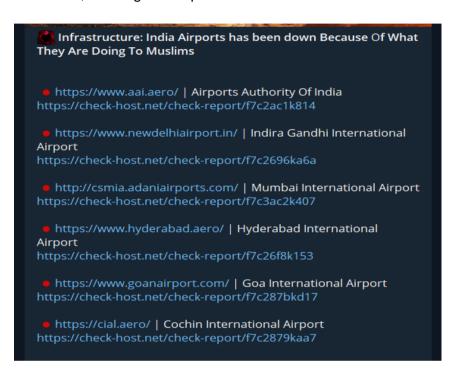

Anonymous Sudan: In-Depth Analysis Beyond Hacktivist Attacks

CheckPoint, a software company established in Israel and known for its firewall and VPN products were targeted. Stating that the reason for this intense attack against Israel is because of what it has done to Palestine, Anonymous Sudan is not content with its own attacks, but warns people to "Attack", invites people to attack and attacks with great force. Among the sectors attacked; Airlines, Banks, Israeli National Intelligence Organization, Hospitals, Universities, Newspapers and many different institutions and organizations. It has been observed that other groups have not remained silent to these calls and that different groups and threat actors continue these attacks with different plans.

Indian:

On 7 April 2023, Anonymous Sudan, which stated in a telegram that they would target "The reason we attack India because of what they do to Muslims and we will start our attacks on India in the next hour", first targeted airports.

United States of America:

The group shared a screenshot of Twitter's website on the Telegram channel with the message "This page is down" and stated that they sent a message to Elon Musk with this attack.

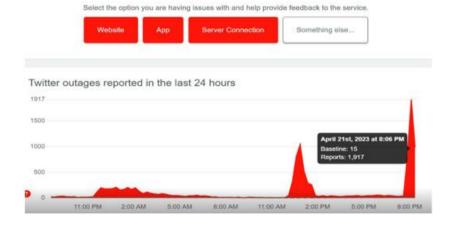

Anonymous Sudan had requested Starlink for Sudan, whose infrastructure collapsed as a result of the military coup.

User reports indicate problems at Twitter

Twitter is a microblog which allows users to publish short messages of 280 characters of less. Twitter users are able to post their tweets from from numerous devices and platforms, including the iPhone, Android, Blackberry, or Windows Phone devices and traditional computers.

Germany:

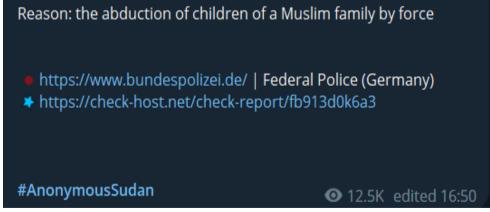

Anonymous Sudan has claimed that it is attacking various countries and sectors to show its support for Muslims, who often face hostility and rejection. Its new target is Germany, where DDoS attacks have been launched in many areas, claiming racism against Muslims.

On April 29, 2023, a post shared on Twitter led to a DDoS attack on the Federal Police website in response to the kidnapping of a Muslim family's children by German police. Shortly afterwards, the German bank Deutsche Bank AG was attacked for the same reason.
